SPRING/SUMMER 2020

The rules of the game change with the seasons. Traditional suiting will always be core to looking refined – but going casual in a smart way is opening up how we dress and express ourselves. It breaks the boundaries of the boardroom, allowing the lines between dress and casual to be more comfortably blurred than ever before.

Our Spring/Summer 2020 collection is designed to deliver on style, comfort and class with carefully curated fabrics that are the perfect business, wedding or travel companion for your next foray into parts unknown.
OUR NEWEST NEWS

Giving you more ways to freshen up your look.

The Milano Suit: Luxurious Natural Stretch
A new Italian milled cloth from Guabello. This 100% wool suiting option is woven to offer a natural stretch comparable to garments with synthetic elastomers.

Chinos: New Colors and Weights
Our color range expands with cadet blue and light gray. PLUS, a mid-weight option complementing the success of our heavyweight cloth.

Outerwear: Rain-ready Style
A new water-resistant option for our mac and hooded styles in black and olive as well as a bold red for pop.
SEASIDE BRIGHTS

Bold plaids and summery stripes in true reds, bright greens and classic navies suggests summer by the seashore—no matter your distance to the ocean.

The casual side of INDOCHINO’s collection is untucked and unstructured, worn with chinos in khakis and light grays.

SPRING/SUMMER 2020
Textured linens and seersuckers add a punch of interest to olives, tans and khaki. These options are best when the look is relaxed (and even a little rumpled).

Pair with subtle plaids and white shirting in a cotton-linen blend for a neutral feel that works equally well by sandy cliffs or in the city.

SLICK SILVERS

Our new light grays are available in a range of solids and patterns. Houndstooths, glen checks, plaids, and windowpanes will have you standing out in any crowd, whether you’re walking down the aisle or finding new ways to take care of business.

Similar tones present a refinement that is second to none, but to truly set yourself apart, choose varying shades and patterns of gray with a contrasting blazer or vest.

Light and dark shades of indigo add newness to our wide assortment of blues this season, rivaling the sky and offering more depth in a part of your closet you may have thought you had covered.

We’re bringing the freshness in spades with pattern on pattern for interest, mixing stripes, checks and prints in our shirting and ties as well. Equally noteworthy are our monochromatic navies that truly stand out.

“At INDOCHINO, we design for the future—that’s how we’ve grown to be the leader in made to measure apparel.”

Anticipating our customers’ needs keeps us constantly innovating our products, updating our tailoring methods and ensuring a superior showroom experience. We never stop finding ways to give men the best quality and value for their custom garments.”

Drew Green
CEO

Founded on the belief that you don’t need to spend a fortune on a custom wardrobe, Indochino is on a mission to bring custom crafted clothing to men across North America. Offering a truly personalized shopping experience, customers shop online or visit an INDOCHINO showroom to design their own premium suits, shirts, blazers and coats.

Each garment is made to measure and delivered in two weeks for a perfect fit, hassle free. This approach has enabled Indochino to become the largest exclusive made to measure apparel brand in the world.
We encourage you to dive deeper into INDOCHINO’s made to measure experience. If you have any questions about our products or image and interview requests, our PR team is always happy to assist.
